

What is claimed is:

1. An Automatic Soundtrack Generator capable of mixing a signal from an external audio source in a video/audio record and/or play device in accordance with mixing instructions
5 with an internal audio source containing digitized sound files, comprising, a processor 1, a memory element 2, 3, 6 connected to said processor for storing mixing instructions and the digitized sound files, a digital to analog conversion circuit 7 for receiving the digitized sound files, and a summation circuit 5 for combining the signal from the external audio source with the digitized sound files.

10